

Desktop Services Manager

Information Technology Services Department

Summary:

The Desktop Services Manager is responsible for leading a team of technicians to provide escalated support in the Washington DC office and manage the end-to-end lifecycle of the Firm's workforce devices and endpoints. This includes the planning, deployment, and ongoing maintenance / support of the Firm's appliances (e.g., laptops, desktops / workstations, desktop peripherals, mobile devices, printers / copiers).

This role actively partners with cross-functional technical and non-technical stakeholders to align workforce appliances with identified Firm needs, providing a reliable and efficient technology experience for our lawyers, staff, practice groups, and clients.

The combination of technical acumen with a relentless customer focus, communication skills, and a desire to help prevent / resolve issues enables the Desktop Services Manager to deliver a gold-standard technology experience.
